I'm going to guess that you're going to send Luke the attachment right before the meeting, right?

When I send you this attachment, you're going to need to extract it and put it into a new email that you send to the entire Board. If you just forward it, Luke will realize that everyone except him has had it for several days.

Or, if you prefer, since I know you work mostly off of your phone, I can send you what looks like a "brand new" email on Monday that you can just forward to the entire Board at a time of your choice.

Please let me know which you prefer.

I'm about to send you the summary of what we have previously called "option 2.5". In the motion for Monday's meeting, this will be the "as briefed" item.

I do not have the contractor's update regarding the sink price and I don't know when I will have it. Obviously I will continue to nibble down scope and price to the extent possible.

I'm concerned about entrusting this information to Luke. I fear that we will see it posted on Talk.

However, that's not my decision to make. The next email you get from me will contain the attachment. It will be sent to Kris. It will be blind-copied to David, Chuck, and Steve. I will not be copying Luke on the email.

Kris can extract that attachment and then send it out to the entire Board at a time of your choice.

Chris
